

Terms of use for TABLER.WORLD

1.

This platform has been created to enable a worldwide cooperation between Tablers and to deepen friendships. Always keep our “Aims and Objects” in mind, while using this platform.

2.

A Tabler is a gentleman first. Please act as such in the comments section or within discussions and behave towards other Tablers the way you would like to be treated yourself.

3.

Please consider the applicable law, especially copyright law, before posting any content. You will remain accountable for your postings!

4.

Your postings reveal your actions as a Tabler – Display of excessive binge drinking, sexual offensive content or nudity are misplaced.

5.

If a Tabler treats you disrespectfully, point him to his misconduct to enable him to apologize.

6.

If you witness a Tabler being treated unfair, offer him your help and deescalate the situation.

7.

Round Table is a worldwide organization – Make sure not to offend other Tablers with your postings due to their culture or worldview.

8.

If you notice a technical error, please kindly report the error at your earliest convenience and keep yourself available for further questions. You won't try to attack the infrastructure or attempt to exploit vulnerabilities in any way.

9.

This platform lives and grows with its members. Please keep your data and profile up to date at all times, to stay connected to the Tabler community. If you are given administration permission, please use them responsibly. Always choose a strong password. You can be made responsible for any breach to the privacy policy that may occur from your negligence.

10.

Consider this platform an opportunity to gain valuable experience as a Tabler. Your time being a Tabler is limited – Make the most of it!